

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—When General Johnson returned from his western speaking tour he reported to Roosevelt that he had found widespread enthusiasm for the NRA, but that if drastic measures were not promptly taken to punish chisellers, popular backing would weaken. He urged immediate and forceful action.

The President indicated that he was 100 percent behind him, told him to go to the limit and invited him down to Warm Springs.

WAR BY RADIO

Enrique Bordenave, sagacious minister of Paraguay, never goes to the movies in the evening. Nor does he go to the theatre. In fact, he is not overly anxious to go any place.

For every night about nine o'clock Minister Bordenave likes to turn on his radio. It is one of the best in the Capital, fitted with a short wave receiving set. With it he can hear perfectly various capitals of South America.

But Bordenave is interested only in one city. Every night he tunes in on LaPaz, capital of Bolivia, listens to the bulletins of the War Ministry, learns how many are dead or wounded, whether Bolivia claims victory over Paraguay.

For despite the peace efforts of the League, the United States, and various Latin American neutrals, Paraguay and Bolivia remain officially and desperately at war.

BOOMERANG

Some of them are now on the way to getting themselves into more trouble. It is the investment bankers this time and their refusal to include fair trade regulations in their NRA code is where they muffed the ball.

Members of the Senate Banking committee, sharpening their knives for bankers all summer under the tutelage of Ferdie Pecora, are sore. They threaten to introduce drastic legislation to do for the investment bankers what they refused to do for themselves.

NRA executives also are aroused. Division Administrator White-side even refused to hold hearings on the innocuous code. He threw it back to the bankers with the rebuke: "You gentlemen, apparently, have not taken this matter seriously."

What particularly irritates NRA officials is that last summer the bankers were given additional time to work out rules for their own self-government.

But when the code finally appeared not a line about self-regulation was in it.

State Will Not Accept 3 Streets

Cutting boulevard, Panhandle boulevard and Standard avenue will not become a part of the state highway system, according to word received by the council, at its meeting last evening.

A letter was received from C. H. Purcell, highway engineer, in which he stated the state highway commission could not accede to the request of the City of Richmond, as the three streets above named were not a part of the state system, and could only be made a part through the action of the state legislature.

The council asked the state board to take over the streets named, claiming that they connected with the state system, and naturally should be made a part of it.

The matter will be taken up with the assemblyman and state senator, and see if action cannot be secured at the next session of the legislature.

NEW THREAT OF LYNCHING IS FEARED

SAN JOSE, Nov. 20.—UP—Searchlights loaned by the naval air station at Sunnyvale were used at low tide tonight in the long search of San Francisco bay for the body of Brooke L. Hart, 22, kidnap victim.

The search was rendered more discouraging by the collapse of two leads taken to verify the confession of Thomas H. Thurmond and J. M. Holmes that they killed Hart and threw his body from San Mateo-Hayward bridge.

A pillowslip recovered from the water by Coroner J. C. McGovern of San Mateo county was at first believed to be that of which Thurmond and Holmes said they placed over Hart's head. Sheriff William Emilg of Santa Clara county, however, said the slip was smaller than the one he said they used.

Pieces of flesh dragged from the bay were found to be from an animal, rather than from a human body.

SAN JOSE, Nov. 20.—UP—Additional evidence that the body of Brooke L. Hart, 22 year old kidnap victim, is in San Francisco bay was found today. Simultaneously, authorities planned to combat an insanity plea expected from Thomas H. Thurmond, who will be tried with J. M. (Jack) Holmes on a charge of kidnapping. The death penalty will be sought for both.

A pillow slip was taken from the water by Coroner J. C. McGovern of San Mateo and George Kneese, former county supervisor, Thurmond and Holmes in confession.

Events Are Planned By Local Tribe

A number of events to take place in the near future were planned last evening when One-tah Tribe, Improved Order, Red Men, held their meeting in Red Men hall. Sachem R. R. Coudyser presided.

On Wednesday and Thursday evenings the lodge will hold a turkey shoot at the lodge hall on Nevin between Tenth and Eleventh streets. It is expected that a large crowd will attend. Turkeys will be awarded as prizes.

On Monday evening the lodge holds its annual turkey whist party, which has always proved to be a well attended and very successful affair. The party will be open to the general public.

A social dinner, for Red Men and Pocahontas, to be held sometime in December was also discussed. The recent dinner held by the lodge proved so successful that it was decided that another should be held.

Adoption of a class of candidates in December was also given thought during the session. A number of new members will be formally adopted as members of the tribe.

A social followed the business meeting.

Victim Of Gangsters Identified

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—UP—The man whose bullet riddled body was found near Skyline boulevard here today was identified tonight as Cortland Howard, about 40, who registered with his wife and daughter at the Sir Francis Drake hotel, as from Reno.

Police unhesitatingly said Howard had been murdered.

His body was found by David Malone, a painter, who noticed a pool of blood at the roadside. The body was 70 feet distant.

Taken For A Ride

Police said the body had been taken to the spot in an automobile and that blood dripped through the floor boards.

The man had been shot once through the temple and twice through the neck.

Were At Hotel

An adjacent room at the hotel had been rented by a man who registered as Samuel Montgomery of Reno, Nevada, with the Howards.

All had checked out yesterday.

Body Not Robbed

The slain man had not been robbed of $20 in currency. All letters, cards or other means by which he might have been easily identified were missing. His clothing had been purchased in Los Angeles.

The body of O'Bryan C. Beniss, mysteriously slain under similar circumstances was found near the same spot, which is near the parking of eight or ten gasoline trucks and their trailers, and about 12 automobiles.

The politicians said that the trucks were coming and going at all times of night, that the house was insufferable, and the fire hazard from the danger of the gasoline trucks getting afire was great.

After some discussion, the matter was referred to the city attorney and the city manager.

It was announced that there will be a meeting of the east bay division of the California League of Municipalities at Berkeley Friday evening. A number of the members of the council will attend.

Gas Trucks Nuisance Is Protested

A vigorous protest was filed with the council at its meeting last evening by the residents and property owners in the vicinity of Twenty-eighth and Cutting boulevard, against the use of the slots in that section for the parking of eight or ten gasoline trucks and their trailers, and about 12 automobiles.

The politicians said that the trucks were coming and going at all times of night, that the house was insufferable, and the fire hazard from the danger of the gasoline trucks getting afire was great.

Officers for the club will be installed during the meeting which will start at 8 o'clock.

A large crowd is anticipated as invitations have been extended to many non-members to attend.

Balloon Crew is Missing

NEW YORK, Tuesday, Nov. 21.—UP—Searching parties spread through New Jersey early today in an effort to locate Lieut. Commander T. G. W. Settle and Major Chester L. Fordney who rode in a sealed gondola under a huge balloon into the stratosphere at an estimated altitude of 58,000 feet, drifted across the country to the east as it started to descend. It was reported sighted over western Pennsylvania and later in the vicinity of Wilmington, Del.

The great bag, after attaining an estimated altitude of 58,000 feet, drifted across the country to the east as it started to descend. It was reported sighted over western Pennsylvania and later in the vicinity of Wilmington, Del.

Later unconfirmed reports indicated the balloon, first American craft ever to reach the outer layer of the earth's atmosphere, had landed in the vicinity of Alloway, N. J.

A farmer telephoned Salem police that he had seen a big balloon "coming down very fast" heading in the general direction of a large pine woods.

Save Instruments

In Washington navy men pointed out that Settle's first concern upon landing, would be for his expensive instruments in the gondola which were used in obtaining scientific information.

Navy officials were inclined to believe that the balloon had landed near Alloway and that Settle and Major Fordney set at work at once to remove their instruments from the gondola and get them in shape for transportation.

Meanwhile, the President carried forward his plans to obtain as much rest and relaxation as possible with in the next few weeks. Favored by perfect weather and with the mercury close to the 75 mark, he spent several hours out of doors today behind the wheel of his new little touring car.

Harry Hopkins, federal relief administrator, and head of the newly created public works board which has been entrusted with the gigantic task of putting 4,000,000 men on payrolls this winter also may be called there, it was learned.

Hopkins' visit would be in connection with the work program for which $400,000,000 has been made available as a starter.

Announcements were made of the turkey party which will be held on Wednesday night by the C. C. Encampment of Odd Fellows. The affair will be held at J. O. D. hall and the public has been invited to attend.

Reports were received by the organization on the district meeting which was held Saturday night at Rodeo. More than 300 persons attended the affair.

J. B. Hunt, chairman of the Christmas Tree committee reported that December 22 has been set as the tentative date for the annual Christmas party which is held by the lodge.

Members of the organization will act as pall bearers at funeral services Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Wilson and Kratzer's chapel for the late F. A. Bacon.

Raymond Berk presided over last night's meeting.

Lovett Funeral Set For Today

Last rites will be held at Wilson and Kratzer chapel this afternoon at 1:30 for the late Merton R. Lovett, retired Standard Oil employee and pioneer Richmond resident who died Sunday. Interment will be in Sunset View cemetery.

The Richmond lodge of Elks will be in charge of the rites.

Deceased was 68 years of age and had lived in Richmond for the past 27 years. He retired from the power department of the Standard Oil company in 1929, after serving 20 years.

He had resided at the Richmond Elks club since 1915 and had been a member of the organization for many years.

He leaves a son Eugene R. Lovett, publisher of the Palo Alto Times.

ROOSEVELT, HENRY FORD MAY CONFER

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 20.—UP—A discussion between President Roosevelt and Henry Ford is in prospect, authoritative quarters indicated tonight.

Friend of the administration said they would not be surprised if Ford came here to confer with the chief executive at the "Little White House" adding, however, that there was nothing definite as yet.

Should the President and the motor magnate meet it might result, observers pointed out to the latter's consent to come in under the Blue Eagle with the rest of the rest of the automobile industry.

Ford's adherence to NRA principles, it is said by some, might also have the important effect of quieting unrest among certain branches of the whole industrial and stockholding powers of the administration.

Reports in conference with the possibility of a visit by Ford said that he was invited by Mr. Roosevelt to come to Warm Springs. At the (temporary) executive offices, however, those reports could not be confirmed.

New Bus Schedule To Start Thursday

As a result of the efforts of the council, city attorney and city manager, the Key System has listened to some of the many protests that have been lodged against the service that is being given this city, and changes for the betterment will be made in the near future.

The council was informed last night that commencing Thursday, the express service between this city and Oakland will operate on a new route. Instead of stopping at Sixth street the line will operate direct to the Standard Oil company. The last bus will leave the refinery at 1:10 in the morning, which will provide an opportunity for the last shift men to get home.

The express service will operate on a 20 minute basis during the day time, straight through to Oakland, and in the evening, the service will go as far as Ashby avenue, when a transfer to the street car will have to be made. The Barrett avenue service will return to its old schedule, starting at Dimm avenue and ending at Tenth street.

The Pullman and Stoga service is being studied by the company officials, and it is stated that some announcement in that regard will be made in the next ten days.

McVittie Explains

City Manager J. A. McVittie stated to the council that many had asked why the ties were not taken up by the street car company. "The corporation," said McVittie, "claims that it is not financially able to do this work. In the franchise by which the city can compel the transportation company to do so, when it is continued on Page 5287.

Ernest Marcus, president of the merchants, will name a committee soon which will discuss plan for the group.

Fred Newsom was chairman of the evening last night. Music was furnished during the turkey dinner by the Richmond Boy Scout band under the direction of A. A. Hart. The session was well attended.

Rolla Eubanks will be in charge of the degree work and will also have charge of the business meeting of the organization.

William Kinney and his committee will serve refreshments at the conclusion of the meeting.

In the banquet hall an entertainment will be presented. The nature of the program is being held a secret.

It was stated that a well known past master of the lodge will address the group.

Brilliant Planet Is Seen In Skies

A perfectly clear sky made the brilliance of the planet "even brighter than that of the moon." The planet last night appeared to be almost located on the upper tip of the crescent of the moon.

Around The Sacks With The Bushers

The "little big game" featuring Santa Clara and St. Mary's was responsible for several players being absent in the lineup of the Standard Feed and Fuel nine yesterday afternoon at El Cerrito. However, they proceeded to wallopp the Richmond Odd Fellows in easy fashion.

The Palace Market-Standard Feed and Fuel contest at El Cerrito Sunday will open the second half for both teams. This is one game that offers plenty of action and local rivalry. The Fuelers will be out seeking to avenge an early season defeat. It will be brother against brother as Ray Kuykendall will chuck for the Markets while Don Kuykendall is runner-up. Another selection for the Fuelers.

Determined to shake a bad slump at the expense of Palace Market, pitchers are Walter Gordon, infielder and Manuel Marcus, outfielder with the Fuelers. Both are willing to bet that the new "timber" purchased for the club, they will connect with one or two blows next Sunday.

Frank Muzzi, newly acquired outfielder for the Standard Feed and Fuel, came up with a brilliant back-handed catch in the Odd Fellow contest Sunday. It robbed an ambitious Linker of a possible home run. Muzzi's fielding and batting should help his club tremendously.

The City Recreation's 12 to 11 defeat at the hands of the Bercovich Furniture company at Berkeley Sunday afternoon deprived the Snookers of finishing at the top of the ladder in their league during the first half. As there are but a couple more games to be played, the chances of the Snookers are very slight. The Snookers hooped everything that came their way in the closing innings of the game after they had established what appeared to be a "safe" lead.

This fellow Bishop with the Lambrecht company nine continues to set a dizzy pace with the willow for other pastimers to shoot at. His defensive work is without a peer in the league. This youngster to play next summer right up with the "Double A's."

There is lots of discussion as to who is the best pitcher in the Richmond City League. Fans argue continuously regarding the merits of Ray Kuykendall, Sid Martin and Pete Serdick. The former twirls for the Palace Markets while the latter two carry the mound burden for the Lambrecht company. Serdick in this writer's opinion, is the best pitcher in the league. His fast ball has plenty of "hop" his control is excellent and with his newly acquired curve, he has everything.

A meeting of the City League managers will be held in a day or two.

BANDITS TAKE HOSTAGE AFTER DARING HOLDUP

BANDITS TAKE

RACINE, Wis., Nov. 20.—(U.P.)—President Grover C. Weyland and two employees of the American Bank and Trust company, one of them a girl, were released late today after a daring holdup by five bandits who had kidnapped them several hours earlier after robbing the bank and shooting down two men in escaping.

Weyland telephoned his wife here that he, Miss Ursula Patzke, a bookkeeper, and Cyril Bayard, bank policeman, had been released unharmed and were returning home immediately.

$10,000 Taken
At the time the hostages were released, other bank employees still were checking over accounts to determine exactly how much money and been stolen. It was estimated that the amount was about $10,000. Although more than 125 persons witnessed various steps of the holdup, versions of how it occurred were so conflicting that police could not gather any one clear version.

It was agreed, however, that at least five men entered the bank at about 2:30 P. M. and that several of them carried machine guns. The bandits forced employees and customers to put up their hands and Weyland opened a safe. They scooped up the money and started to flee, forcing Weyland, Miss Patzke and the bank's policeman, Bayard, to precede them.

Alarm Given
Meanwhile, however, an alarm had spread and as they emerged from the bank the bandits walked into an excited, shouting crowd of some 100 persons. A squad of police arrived at the same moment and the bandits opened fire. Most of the spectators dropped to the street or ran.

Two men fell, pierced by the bandits' bullets. They were Sergeant William Hansen and Harold Graham, bank teller, who ran outside and got into the line of fire. Two bullets entered Graham's side. One struck Hansen in the groin. Physicists said later that both men were recovering.

The bandits then forced their three hostages, whom they used as shields in making their way to an automobile, to accompany them. They fled from the city, taking the hostages with them, and it was several hours later before Weyland, Miss Patzke and Bayard were released 20 miles away.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY GO ROUND

White House press secretary, announced that Woodin would issue a statement. Newspapers called Woodin's secretary, but he denied knowing anything about it. Much interest in the newsmen were wondering what it was all about when Woodin's secretary, who had been waiting to see them again, when they reassembled in his office. Woodin informed them that he had overlooked saying at the previous meeting that the President had his whole-hearted backing.

His auditors smiled and departed. Two hours later Woodin posted in unannounced in the Treasury press room. Seating himself on a table he told newspapermen, with whom he is personally very popular, that he had dropped in for a little chat to make sure that they had no doubts about his loyalty to the President.

"Franklin Roosevelt," he declared, "is saving America. His program and policies mean recovery, prosperity, progress, peace."

"Why, Mr. Secretary," observed one of the surprised reporters, "you have been keeping something from us. You belong in the Senate."

CERRY GO ROUND
In a last-minute appeal for votes the Republican ticket in Reading, Pa., printed full-page ads in the local papers saying: "Support the Nation's President by voting the straight Republican ticket—Heading the list of candidates was a large picture of President Roosevelt. Mystery surrounded the appointment of E. Francis Ruggs as chief of police of Puerto Rico. Member of an old Maryland family, Ruggs is not the usual chief of police type."

Nurse Given Cross Quiz By State

SANTA CRUZ, Nov. 20.—(U.P.)—Evelyn Welch, formerly Pennsylvania World War nurse, was cross-examined by the state today at her trial for the alleged murder of Francis J. M. Grace, member of a prominent shipping and exporting family.

J. Frank Murphy, district attorney, asked Miss Welch why she asked Grace for only $250 at a time when she thought she was to have a child as the result of an alleged attack by Grace after he gave her some white she believed was drugged.

The nurse replied she thought that sum would see her through. Murphy then asked her why she asked Grace for money when she had a $100 bank account of $145 with her husband, William, and a $500 account in her name. Miss Welch said the money belonged to her brother and he had no right to it.

Under questioning by Murphy he said she drank about three-fourths of a glass of wine the night of the alleged attack two years ago and she said she did not suspect it was drugged as she did not taste anything wrong with it. She added she drank wine so seldom that she did not know how it was supposed to taste.

WANDA GOOLD IS BRIDE OF W. C. DEARDORFF

DANVILLE, Nov. 20.—At a ceremony at the home of the bride's mother near Danville, amid a profusion of pink roses and ferns and soft glow of candlelight, Miss Helen Wanda Goold became the bride of Gerald Stewart Deardorff yesterday afternoon.

In the presence of near relatives and a few friends the marriage rites of the Episcopal church were read by Rev. F. C. Miller of St. Paul's church of Walnut Creek, before an improvised altar banked with ferns, pink roses and candelabra carrying tall ivory tapers.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Ralph Harrison. She was gowning in a dusty pink satin, form-fitting gown with a slight train. Her bouquet was of lilies of the valley and bow-vardia.

Preceding the ceremony Walter Denault of Oakland sang "I Love You Truly" and "At Dawning" and Mrs. Denault played the wedding march.

The young couple selected the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Harrison for their wedding day.

Mrs. Deardorff, the daughter of Mrs. Charles Goold and the late Charles Goold, pioneer residents, was born and raised in the San Ramon valley.

The bridegroom is the son of Walter C. Deardorff of Hanford, and Mrs. Musetta Davis of San Francisco. He is manager of a Standard station in Richmond.

Following a two weeks honeymoon spent in southern California and Arizona the couple will reside on the Gould estate near Danville.

WIFE IS HELD IN DEATH OF OIL OFFICIAL

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 20.—UP—Sheldon Clark, Jr., 34, son of a prominent Chicagoan, was shot dead tonight in his home at Paulsboro, N. J. His wife was held on a homicide charge.

Clark, a minor executive of the Sinclair Oil company, of which his father is a vice president, was shot through the breast by a bullet from a .38 calibre revolver. His wife, Audrey, had quarrelled with Clark.

Dies Instantly

Clark died instantly. His wife was taken to a hospital in Woodbury, N. J. Police said she had been struck with a billiard cue and had a gash on the scalp.

Clark was the father of two small children. He was killed, according to police, in the basement of his home where he had a small bar and a billiard table.

Tells Of Fight

According to statements made by Mrs. Clark, she went to the basement, where she and her husband engaged in an argument. During the quarrel, according to the story she told police, Clark became enraged and struck her on the head with a billiard cue, cutting a six inch gash.

A few minutes later servants in the house said they heard a shot and found Clark lying on the basement floor with a bullet through called here, it was learned. A pistol was on the floor about 12 feet from the body, police said. Mrs. Clark was found near the foot of the basement stairs, bleeding and semi-conscious. Clark was dead when a physician arrived.

The Clarks were married in 1925. Their children are Sheldon, 6, and Harry, 4. Clark was married once before, having obtained a divorce before marrying Audrey Smith, who was then a Broadway chorus girl. Mrs. Clark's parents live in Brooklyn.

sions to police, said they put a pillow slip over Hart's head before they tossed his bound and weighted body from the San Mateo-Hayward bridge.

Slip Stained

The pillow slip was stained with what appeared to be blood and had in it two holes that might have been made by bullets.

Late today grappling hooks brought to the surface what were believed to be pieces of human flesh.

Deep silt at the bottom hindered the search. Diver Earl Townsend said he sank to his helmet in the mud, and had to probe with a steel pole. The body was believed weighted with 44 pounds of concrete, and might have gone down into soft silt, officers said.

Hat Is Found

The slip was picked up in feet off Steinberger's slough, about a mile south of the bridge. The Santa Clara university graduate's hat was found on the mudflats of the Alameda shore Sunday. Alex J. Hart, wealthy San Jose department store owner, positively identified the hat as that of his son.

It was believed by police that the kidnapers tossed the hat into the bay after the body, then calmly attempted to extort $10,000 ransom for Hart's return "alive and well."

Prisoners at S. F.

The pillow slip and hat were placed in a vault with two cement blocks and a coil of wire—all substantiation of the two confessions. Cement blocks were used to weight the wire-bound body, Thurmond and Holmes admitted.

Thurmond said Holmes struck Hart with a brick, then tossed the loose bricks into the bay.

The prisoners were held at San Francisco prison.

Lynch Threat

San Jose authorities were worried over information that influential friends of the Hart family had formed a committee that had the appearance of a vigilante group. It was decided not to return Holmes and Thurmond to San Jose for several days, at least. They were taken to San Francisco the day after their arrest when an angry crowd gathered outside the jail.

Sheriff William Emig, District Attorney Fred L. Thomas and Deputy District Attorney Herbert Bridges conferred on plans for swift prosecution of the pair. The California kidnap law provides death or life imprisonment without possibility of parole for kidnapers convicted of using violence.

The officials said they had information that Thurmond, who said: "I ain't tough, I'm just screwy," would plead insanity. Holmes will attempt to repudiate his confession, they believed. Both prisoners conferred with attorneys.

Projects for new railways are being considered in several provinces of China.

Transamerica Is Considering Dividend Rates

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—UP—

Consideration will be given to payment of dividends on Transamerica corporation stock soon, it was announced today by A. P. Giannini, chairman of the board of the bank of America and Transamerica. He returned here from New York.

"A moderate dividend may be declared by Transamerica prior to the end of this year," said Giannini. "If conditions continue to warrant, and if action is not taken in December, I will recommend to the board that a dividend be declared early next year."

"When we pay a dividend on Transamerica, it means that we will continue to pay dividends."

"Bank of America is paying annual dividend of $2,000,000 and is earning more than three times that amount. If this ratio continues, there is a great likelihood that the dividends paid by the bank will be increased."
